

E-Bulletin on the celebration of 16 Days Activism against Gender-Based Violence

1. Interaction among Different Religious Leaders of Nepal on menstruation Practices in their Respective Religions

Jagaran Nepal has organized “Interaction among Different Religious Leaders of Nepal on menstruation Practices in their Respective Religions” on occasion to celebrate 16 Days Activism against Gender-Based Violence on 10th December 2021. The objectives of the interaction program with four major religious leaders from Hinduism, Buddhism, Muslim, and Christianity were to understand mensuration practice according to their religion and their views regarding it and to make them understand the mensuration process as dignified mensuration.

In the interaction program, we found that religious leaders have a positive understanding of mensuration practice. They shared that women are not impure during menstruation time and should not be treated as impure or live a separate life. According to them in any religious book, it is not stated that menstruation is impure or women need to follow isolation rules during menstruation.

These all are a myth regarding religious views on mensuration practice. Moreover, our society is a patriarchal society where women are dominated based on their sex and seen as less human that is why women are facing all the problems.

So, to overcome this problem we need to educate our mothers and sisters and create awareness to the male and senior people in the society about dignified mensuration practice.
